Haul Largest Load Of Explosives Ever Hauled

The C. A. & C. hauled the largest load of explosives ever hauled in the United States one day last week. The train contained thirty cars, all loaded with explosives, starting from Cincinnati. They were taken to Cleveland, where the explosives were loaded in a boat for Duluth, consigned to a mining company. Minute precautions were taken against accident. The speed was regulated to 30 miles an hour and the train was kept out of a green block, both front and rear. Should a train of this kind go wrong, the result can be left only to the imagination. It is certain that the right of way would be several feet lower than before should the stuff let go. It is said to be the largest single consignment of ammunition ever shipped, not excepting war times.

RUSH MEASURE TO ITS DEATH

Senate Kills Evans Non-Partisan Judiciary Bill.

ELEVEN MEMBERS ARE ABSENT

Senator Patterson Has Bill Advanced on Calendar and Voted Upon at Early Session, the Result Being Victory For Opponents of Bill to Print Judicial Tickets on Separate Ballots — Governor Takes Sunday Ball Under Advisement.

Columbus, O., April 19.—Only six senators voted for the passage of the Evans nonpartisan judiciary bill, one of the reform measures recently passed by the house, while 17 members voted against it. Senator Patterson of the judiciary committee, who last week protested vigorously because the measure was taken out of the hands of the committee, engineered its defeat. He had passed a motion to lift the bill off the calendar and considered immediately. There were 11 absentees. After the bill had been defeated there was considerable criticism because of alleged snap judgment taken in the absence of members. Complaint was made on the ground that it has not been customary to transact such business as passing bills at the short session. However, there is little doubt if opponents of the bill have a clear majority of all senators. To clinch the defeat for this session, a motion to reconsider the action was voted down. The bill provided for the use of a separate ballot for judiciary candidates.

The senate taxation committee today will conduct a hearing on the Langdon taxation commission bill, which is said to be possible of a compromise which would be acceptable to the corporations.

Governor Harmon gave a lengthy hearing to friends and opponents of the Anderson Sunday baseball local option bill. He said he wouldn't declare his opinion on the measure until he could look into the question of its constitutionality.

In the house Mr. Gebhardt's resolution memorializing congress to pass a $1 a day pension bill was defeated by vote of 57 to 3.

Among the speakers in opposition to the bill were: Rev. A. S. Gregg, Cleveland; Rev. Herbert Scott, Rev. Dr. Horton, Columbus; M. D. Crackell, secretary of West Side Boys' club, Cleveland. They were joined by a delegation of delegates to a Y. M. C. A. gathering here. Among those speaking for the bill were: Rev. Father John Powers, Cleveland; C. E. Graham, representing the Order of Railway Conductors; James Schreiner, president of the Zanesville chamber of commerce; Charles Salen, clerk of courts, Cuyahoga county.

DEMOCRATS CAPTURE ROCHESTER DISTRICT

Havens Duplicates Performance of Foss In Massachusetts.

Rochester, N. Y., April 20.—James S. Havens, Democrat, defeated George W. Aldridge, Republican, by 5,835 plurality in the race for the seat in congress formerly occupied by Representative Perkins, Republican, deceased. In 1908 Mr. Perkins carried the district by 10,167, the victory of Havens over Aldridge showing a change of 16,002 votes.

The last Democratic congressman for this district was Colonel Albert S. Greenleaf, elected in 1890. Mr. Havens carried all of the Republican strongholds, not only in the city of Rochester, but the country towns of Monroe county which make up the congressional district.

Streetcar Situation in Pittsburgh Favorable to Strike Tonight.

Pittsburgh, April 20.—About 3,000 streetcar men of Pittsburgh have voted against a proposition of the Pittsburgh Railways company which carries with it a slight increase, and insist on a three-year agreement. The men have instructed their executive officers to insist on the original demands for an increase of 3 1/2 cents an hour. The workmen threaten to take action at the expiration of their scale year—midnight tonight—and tie up the entire Pittsburgh district.

BRYAN REFUSES TO TALK SHOP

Is Bombarded With Questions By New York Reporters.

HOME-COMING IS QUIET AFFAIR

Pays Visit to Mayor Gaynor and Afterwards Said He Would Like to See Old Friend in White House. Talks Freely of Pilgrimage, but Tells Fresh Journalist That 1912 Is a Long Way Off When Questioned as to Own Ambitions.

Washington, April 20.—William J. Bryan appeared before the house committee on insular affairs to urge an appropriation of $375,000 for the extermination of the hookworm in Porto Rico and to advocate the establishing of a pan-American college on the island.

The peerless leader in the course of his day in Washington also called on President Taft at the White House and expressed his views to newspaper men in regard to recent events in Washington.

"I don't care to discuss at length Senator Aldrich's proposed retirement," said Mr. Bryan, in reply to one question. "But I think many people will feel about it as a man once expressed himself in regard to the death of a man with whom he radically differed. He said: 'While one ought not to rejoice in another's death, this was one of those dispensations of Providence to which one could easily reconcile himself.'"

Colonel Admits Pleasure.

The colonel said he was pleased at the result of the recent revolution in the house of representatives. "There is no reason," said he, "why the speaker should be given the power which he now holds when he is able to control largely legislation by putting committee members under obligations to him." Mr. Bryan would have all the committees selected by party caucuses, as the new rules committee is selected. He opined that the new rules committee was selected with a view of loyalty to the speaker rather than of their accurate reflection of the sentiment of the entire Republican party.

The Nebraska referred to his recent letter to the Jefferson day dinner committee of this city, in which he begged out the old 16 to 1 ghost by referring to his quantitative theory of money. "There was nothing new or startling in the letter," said Mr. Bryan, "and it is hardly necessary for those who favored the restoration of silver to suppress their gratification that time has completely vindicated the qualitative theory of money, which was the basis for contention. The Republicans have enjoyed the prestige and emoluments of victory, and they should not begrudge us the pleasure we find in the fact that their president is now compelled to admit that the scarcity of money made low prices. He now contends that increased prices were mainly due to an increase in the currency."
